All Quest for Success classes are taught by professional staff of the Michigan Commission for the Blind, who have training and experience in rehabilitation for people who are blind or visually impaired. Recreational activities are led by Camp Tuhsmeheeta staff, who are also experienced in working with individuals who are blind or visually impaired. In fact, many of the classroom teachers and camp counselors are blind or have vision impairment, and are role models of independent living for campers.

Since the 1970s, Camp Tuhsmeheeta has been operated specifically as a camp for young people who are blind or visually impaired. The Quest for Success program, sponsored by the Michigan Commission for the Blind and Opportunities Unlimited for the Blind, is in its third year.

The 297-acre camp is in a forested area of hardwoods and pines with abundant wildlife, including native wildflowers and songbirds. Swimming and canoeing are popular activities at the waterfront.
